

Real moments, wherever you say yes

Candid wedding and elopement photography across Queenstown and Central Otago, in the mountains, by the lakes, in the light as it falls.

Golden Hour Photography

Here for the real moments

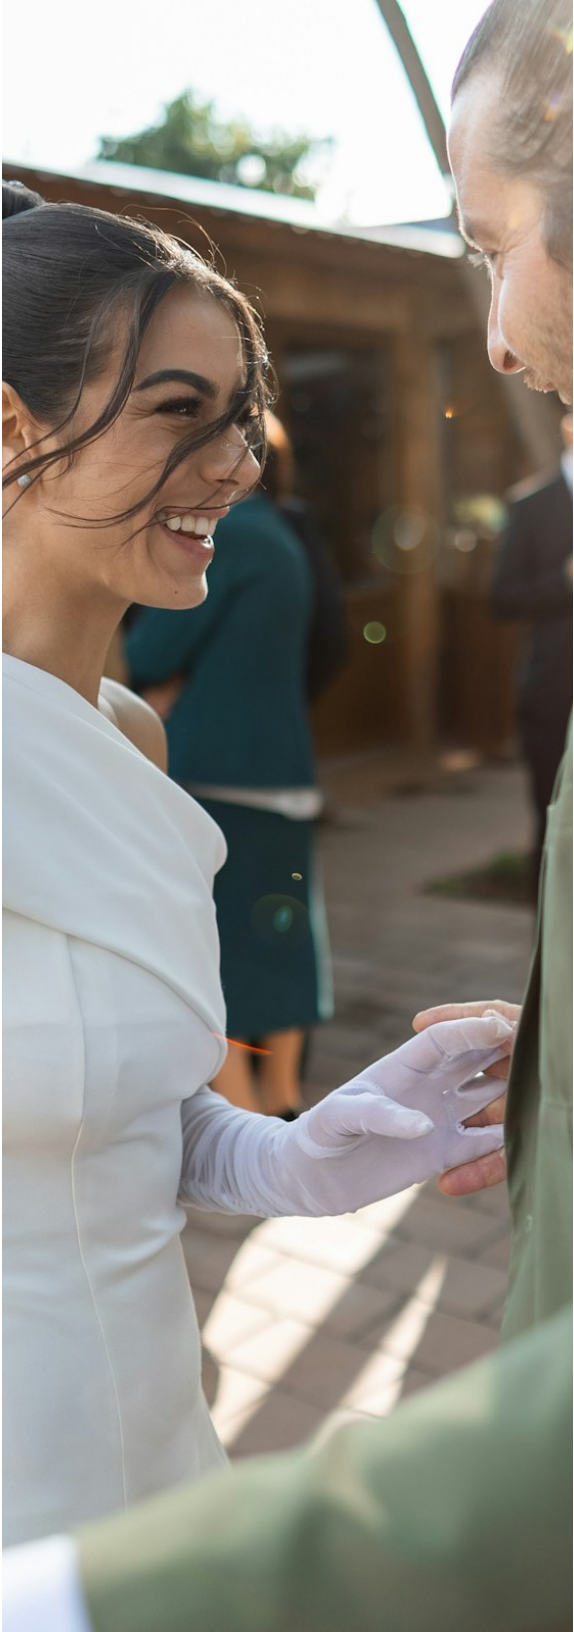

I started photographing weddings here because this light, these mountains, asked to be witnessed. I follow real moments as they happen — unscripted, unposed — wherever two people choose to say yes.

01

Your wedding day, told in natural light

Candid, documentary wedding photography across Queenstown and Central Otago — real moments, wherever you say yes.

Full-day coverage, told honestly

Full-day documentary coverage

I stay from morning preparations through to the dance floor, so nothing in between is missed.

Candid, unposed photographs

Real emotion, not stiff poses — laughter, nerves, the look on your partner's face as you say yes.

Queenstown & Otago venues

I know the light on the lakes, the mountains and the vineyards, and where to find it for you.

02

An intimate day, told in natural light

For couples eloping in the mountains or by the lake

What your elopement day includes

Your ceremony, witnessed

I photograph your vows exactly as they happen — quiet, real, and yours alone.

Adventure to your spot

We go wherever you say yes — alpine tops, lake edges, forest trails across Central Otago.

Natural light, all day

From sunrise ceremonies to golden-hour portraits, I work with the light Queenstown gives us.

Just the people you choose

Bring a celebrant, a witness, or no one at all — I document who you choose to have there.

03

Engagement photos that feel like you

An hour or two together, somewhere you love, with a camera that mostly disappears. Real laughter, real views, no stiff poses.

Natural light, always

No flash, no studio setup — just the light Queenstown gives us that day.

Questions couples ask me

How far in advance should we book?

Queenstown is a popular place to marry, so dates fill quickly in summer and over the Central Otago harvest season.

Do you travel for elopements?

Yes. I photograph elopements anywhere across Queenstown and Central Otago, from lakeside clearings to high alpine ridges, wherever you choose to say yes.

When will we see our photographs?

Your full gallery is delivered within four weeks of your wedding or elopement day.

What happens if the weather changes?

Queenstown weather can shift quickly. We talk through a backup plan together before your day, so it goes ahead whatever the sky does.
