Coworking in a converted mill in Ancoats

The Foundry Cowork

THE FOUNDRY COWORK, ANCOATS, MANCHESTER

Run from the front desk, not head office

The Foundry occupies a converted mill in Ancoats. We kept the exposed brick and iron columns and added fibre broadband, a staffed front desk and phone booths on every floor.

01

Work from a hot desk in Ancoats

Drop into a converted mill on Old Mill Street and get on with your day.

Sit anywhere, stay connected

Any free desk

Take any free desk on the mill floor each time you drop in.

Fibre broadband

Fast, reliable fibre broadband at every desk.

Phone booths every floor

Step into a booth on any floor for calls, without leaving the building.

Staffed front desk

A staffed front desk is on hand to greet you and your guests.

02

A permanent desk in a converted Ancoats mill

A dedicated desk gives your team the same spot every day, in a converted mill in Ancoats.

Your own spot, properly equipped

Your own desk

The same spot every day, not a different one each morning.

Fibre broadband

Fast, reliable connection for calls, uploads and everyday work.

Staffed front desk

A person on hand through the working day, Monday to Friday.

Phone booths on every floor

Step away for a private call without leaving the building.

03

Meeting rooms for clients and teams

Book a meeting room in our converted Ancoats mill, with fibre broadband and a staffed front desk to greet your guests.

What’s included in every meeting room

Meeting rooms

Book a room for client meetings, interviews or team sessions, set in the converted mill.

Fibre broadband

Every room runs on fibre broadband, so video calls and screen shares run without a hitch.

Staffed front desk

A staffed front desk greets your guests and points them to the right room.

Phone booths

Phone booths on every floor for the calls you'd rather take outside the room.

Built for focused work

A converted mill in Ancoats

Exposed brick and tall windows, a short walk from central Manchester.

Fibre broadband

A fast, stable connection at every desk and in every room.

Staffed front desk

A team on hand through the working day to greet guests and help members.

Phone booths on every floor

Take a call or focus alone without leaving the building.
