

A guide from Kew Beach Tennis Club

How to join

Three simple steps from choosing a membership to your first class on the courts.

Kew Beach
Tennis Club

Run by members, for members

Kew Beach Tennis Club runs on the people who show up early to roll the clay, the coaches who stay late for a junior's last drill, and the members who organize the leagues and social nights that fill our calendar all season.

01

Six Clay Courts, Maintained Daily

A slower, kinder surface for beginners, juniors, families and competitive players, open every day from May to October.

What Playing Here Involves

Daily court maintenance

Our six clay courts are maintained daily, so you play on a consistent, well-groomed surface every visit.

Certified junior coaches

Our junior program is run by certified coaches, for parents who want structured, quality instruction.

02

Coaching for every level of player

From first serve to competitive match play, our coaches work with juniors, adults and families on six clay courts in the Beaches.

How coaching works

Coaching built around your game

03

Tennis leagues and social nights for members

Match play, mixed doubles and social tennis nights on our six clay courts, all season long. Every level is welcome on court.

What leagues and socials involves

Club leagues

Play matches against fellow members through the season on our six clay courts.

Social tennis nights

Turn up, get paired, and play doubles with members old and new.

A full season

Leagues and socials run every day the courts are open, May to October.

Why members choose Kew Beach

Clay courts, maintained daily

Our six clay courts are maintained daily, giving a true, kind-to-the-joints game all season.

Coaching for every level

From first lessons to competitive play, coaching meets members where they are.

Certified junior coaches

Our junior program is run by certified coaches, building good habits on the court early.

A full social calendar

Leagues and social tennis nights keep the clubhouse busy all season long.
