

Stoneware thrown and glazed by hand

Mugs, bowls, plates and vases made in small batches at our Asheville studio.

Moss & Clay Ceramics

Stoneware thrown by hand in Asheville, NC

Moss & Clay Ceramics began as a small studio in Asheville's River Arts District, where each piece is still thrown, trimmed and glazed by hand in small batches. Nothing leaves the kiln until it is right.

01

Shop by collection

The ranges

Ridgeline Mug

$38.00

Bud Vase

$32.00

Morning Pour Mug

$44.00

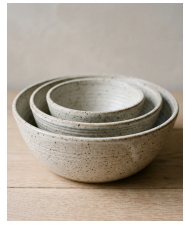

Espresso Cup & Saucer

$34.00

Large Serving Bowl

$120.00

Nesting Bowls, Set of 3

$135.00

Made slowly, made well

Made in the River Arts District

Thrown and glazed in our Asheville studio

Safe for everyday cooking

Lead-free, food-safe glazes throughout

Built for daily use

Dishwasher and microwave safe

Open Saturdays

Visit the studio, 10am–4pm

Bowl, weeknight dinner

Mug, morning coffee

Questions we hear often

Are your glazes food-safe?

Yes. Every glaze we use is lead-free and food-safe, and every finished piece is dishwasher and microwave safe.

Is each piece really made by hand?

Yes. Every piece is made by hand in our studio, thrown and glazed in small batches, so no two are exactly alike.

Where is your studio?

We're in the River Arts District in Asheville, North Carolina.

Can I visit the studio?

Yes. The studio is open Saturdays from 10am to 4pm.

Bring handmade home

Handmade stoneware from a small studio in Asheville, North Carolina: mugs, bowls, plates and vases, thrown and glazed by hand in small batches.

(828) 555-0110
moss-and-clay.sitepages.app
abby@mossandclay.com
River Arts District, Asheville, NC

Moss &
Clay Ceramics